

The Use of Web 2.0 and Asynchronous Education Tools in Distance Education (TiDE) - First Project Newsletter

OVERVIEW

The goal of the TiDE project is to provide high quality and efficient tools for distance education, particularly in response to the Covid-19 pandemic. The aim is to provide teachers and students with the resources to use different web 2.0 and asynchronous education tools effectively. The project will highlight the exchange of good practices in this area among the participating six countries.

OUTPUTS

TiDE will contribute to the development of teachers and students in personal and professional areas in distance education. The first project output will be a Web 2.0 Tools Handbook providing students and teachers with examples for how to use web 2.0 tools in educational settings. The second project output will be an Asynchronous Tools Handbook increasing digital engagement among students in distance education.

KICK-OFF TPM

The first Transnational Project Meeting (TPM) for the project was hosted on February 14th and 15th, 2022, by the partners Colegio Claret in Porto, Portugal. At this meeting, partners were able to come together to discuss the project's trajectory and were able to engage with students at one of the partner schools to discuss distance education and useful related tools.

The European Commission support for the production of this publication does not constitute an endorsement of the contents which reflects the views only of the authors, and the Commission cannot be held responsible for any use which may be made of the information contained therein.